

Short Breaks for Children and Young People with Disabilities

The provision of short breaks through a framework enables children and young people with disabilities to access to a variety of fun and exciting activities whilst providing their parent/carer with a break from caring so that they can spend more time with other family members, pursue their own interests both educationally and socially or just provide them with time to relax.

After consultation with parents/carers and children and young people, a competitive tendering process took place and 8 providers delivering a variety of activities have been awarded a contract to be part of the Short Breaks Framework until 30th June 2022. The providers are:
